RED HOOK PARKING GARAGE SIDEWALK CONSTRUCTION BEGINS MARCH 12TH

The Virgin Islands Port Authority's contractor will begin pouring concrete tomorrow to build the sidewalk along the new two-level parking garage at the Urman V. Fredericks Marine Terminal in Red Hook, St. Thomas. The concrete pour will begin at 6 a.m. and continue throughout the day. There may be some interruption to the flow of traffic at the terminal. Drivers and pedestrians are asked to exercise caution while traversing near the construction area.

Completion of the parking garage is anticipated by this summer. The new garage will help alleviate parking congestion at VIPA's busiest ferry terminal by providing 158 standard parking spaces and six spaces for persons with disabilities. The project also includes improvements to the drainage in the area.
